Intellectual Property Rights Policy of the Netaji Subhas University

1. PREAMBLE

Whereas it is expedient to protect and enforce the Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) in the Netaji Subhas University, it is necessary to adopt an IPR Policy which should contribute to the promotion of technological innovation and the transfer and dissemination of technology, to the mutual advantage of University Stakeholders and users of technological knowledge and in a manner conducive to the social and economic welfare of India especially the Netaji Subhas University, and to a balance of rights and obligations between the Stakeholders and users; the Netaji Subhas University hereby adopts and implements the Netaji Subhas University Intellectual Property Rights Policy subject to the review and revision from time to time.

The Netaji Subhas University Stakeholders includes: the Netaji Subhas University, as an Institution; Faculty of the University; Research Scientists from within the University or Collaborators/ Visiting Scientists/Guest faculty from other institutes or industry working in the University in collaborative research; Research Scholars/Officers working in the University; Visiting research students from other institutes involved in collaborative and funded research; Funding Agencies and industry partners

The Netaji Subhas University, came into existence in 2018 vide Netaji Subhas University Act 2018. The University offers UG, PG & PhD in sciences, humanities, social sciences, law, management, engineering, etc. branches of learning through regular mode and makes provision for research and the advancement and dissemination of knowledge. Being Status of state private University, it is imperative to acquire and protect IPRs for the development of scientific temperament and public good in tune with International Obligations, National Laws, and Policies governing IPR, henceforth the IPR policy is of utmost importance.

2. OBJECTIVES

The IPR refers to a wide range of rights:

1. Patents for inventions.
2. Copyrights for Literary (including a computer programme, artistic work, dramatic work, cinematic films, sound recordings, performer's rights, etc.

3. Trademarks including service marks.
4. Industrial Designs
5. Geographical Indications.
6. Integrated Circuits.
7. Plant Variety and Breeders Rights.
8. Protection of Bio-Diversity and Traditional Knowledge.

The IPR enables the inventors and owners of IPR (Stakeholders) to earn recognition and financial benefit from their original creations. An intellectual property rights policy is the cornerstone of a knowledge-based economy, innovation, and for Stakeholders, henceforth Netaji Subhas University Intellectual Property Rights Policy intends to achieve the following objectives:

- i. To generate awareness about IPR amongst the Stakeholders of the University and society.
- ii. To facilitate innovation and creativity in the areas of technology and research, in the branch of studies undertaken at the Netaji Subhas University by nurturing new ideas and ethical research.
- iii. To protect intellectual property (IP) rights generated by Stakeholders of the Netaji Subhas University, by modeling their creativity and innovation into IP rights.
- iv. To lay down an efficient, fair, and transparent administrative process for ownership control and assignment of IP rights and sharing of revenues generated by IP, created and owned by the Stakeholders.
- v. To promote more collaborations between academia and industry through better clarity on IP regulations and IP licensing.
- vi. To create a mechanism for the commercial viability of IP Rights. The purpose of IP commercialization is also to augment the financial self-sustenance goals of the Netaji Subhas University and its research activities
- vii. To establish an IPR cell for supporting all innovation, creativity, and other related activities for students, research scholars and faculty members, and other Stakeholders.

3. OWNERSHIP OF IP AND ALLOCATION OF IP RIGHTS

A. TYPES OF SUPPORT FOR RESEARCH

Ownership rights over IP generated in the Netaji Subhas University vary according to the source of grant and resources used for the research leading to the generation of the IP. Hence, it is important to understand the different contexts in which IP may be generated within the Netaji Subhas University for example:

1. The research undertaken by Stakeholders in the normal course of his/her appointment/engagement with the Netaji Subhas University, using substantial support from the Netaji Subhas University including the research facilities and infrastructure available in the University.
2. The research undertaken by a Stakeholder in the normal course of his/her appointment/engagement with the university, using incidental support from the University;
3. The research undertaken by a Stakeholder with substantial support from an external source including the funding agencies, and industry partners.

1. Research with 'substantial support from the Netaji Subhas University':

- i. All Patents and inventions acquired/developed by the Stakeholders by utilizing the substantial resources of the Netaji Subhas University shall vest with the Stakeholders depending upon the sharing agreements developed by the IPR Cell from time to time.
- ii. All Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients (APIs) extracted and developed by the Stakeholders shall vest with the Stakeholders depending upon the sharing agreements developed by the IPR Cell from time to time.
- iii. All microorganisms, bacteria, viruses, etc developed by the Stakeholders shall vest with the Stakeholders depending upon the sharing agreements developed by the IPR Cell from time to time.
- iv. The Copyright in literary, dramatic, artistic, or musical works, and cinematic work and sound recordings by the Stakeholders shall vest with the Stakeholders depending upon the sharing agreements developed by the IPR Cell from time to time.
- v. Copyright in any institutional materials including course syllabi, curricula, exam

Netaji Subhas University shall vest with the Netaji Subhas University.

- vi. The ownership rights over any other form of IP generated with substantial support from the university including but not limited to software, know-how, designs, plant varieties, and integrated circuits developed by the Stakeholders shall vest with the Stakeholders depending upon the sharing agreements developed by the IPR Cell from time to time.
- vii. The Stakeholder shall have a non-exclusive, royalty-free, irrevocable, and worldwide license to use the work for any purpose including, sharing it through open-access repositories subject to terms and conditions laid down by the IPR Cell of the Netaji Subhas University.

3. Research with 'substantial support from external partners':

- i. With regard to research conducted with substantial support from external partners, ownership of IP shall be determined as per the terms and conditions in the agreement signed between the Stakeholders and the external partner. However, the Stakeholder shall grant the Netaji Subhas University and the funding agency, as the case may be, a non-exclusive, royalty-free, irrevocable, and worldwide license to use the work for any purpose including, sharing it through open-access repositories subject to terms and conditions laid down by the IPR Cell of the Netaji Subhas University.
- ii. In the absence of a specific agreement between the Stakeholders and the external partner who is providing substantial research support, the Stakeholder and external partner shall resolve the issue of joint ownership of IP for sharing the benefits in the proportion of their relative contribution. However, in the event of commercialization of these research outputs, the revenue shall be shared with the Stakeholders and external partners (as the case may be) as per the determination by the IPR Cell.
- iii. The Netaji Subhas University shall ensure through specific agreement with an external partner that the copyright in any institutional materials including, course syllabi, curricula, papers/ reports, any lecture videos, or Massive Open Online Courses (MOOCs) prepared under the specific instructions of the university shall vest with the university.

B. IP and consultancy assignments

Operation of all consultancy assignments should be channelized and administered centrally by the IPR Cell of the Netaji Subhas University. Any intellectual property arising from the consultancy project will be jointly owned by the Netaji Subhas University, and the consulting firm depending upon the terms agreed by the parties.

C. IP Rights Sharing

The IP Rights can be shared depending upon the agreement between the various Stakeholders based on licenses or assignments to be determined by the IPR Cell. Such licenses and assignments may include:

- 1. Exclusive Licensing/Assignments: The licensor/assignor licenses/assigns the IP solely to one licensee/assignee all the rights concerning the IP applicable for specified terms and through the territory of India/Abroad.
- 2. Non-exclusive Licensing/Assignments: The licensor/Assignor is permitted to enter into agreements with more than one entity for the use and exploitation of the IP on different terms and conditions dealing with different activities.
- 3. Sub-Licensing/Assignments: This is applicable when a licensee/assignee wishes to further license/assign the IP to another party(s). Permissions pertaining to sub-licensing/assignment need to be clarified explicitly in the agreement between the Stakeholders and licensee(s)/assignee(s).

4. ENTREPRENEURSHIP, START-UPS AND IPRs

To promote and encourage entrepreneurial activities by the Stakeholders, the ownership of the IP Rights within the ambit of the IPR Policy may be assigned to the startups for better marketability and commercial exploitation.

5. CONFIDENTIALITY, DATA PROTECTION, AND PRIVACY

All users of information, documents, and/or data within the Netaji Subhas University, must ensure that the same is always held securely and all activities pertaining to such information, documents, and/or data will be kept confidential by the user(s) and will be used only for purpose of such activities.
