Report on Inauguration of NSS Cell Organized 30th October 2019

1. Introduction

In the development perspective of any nation, certain thematic programmes are frequently organized to sensitize students and programme officers for the sake of national reconstruction and resurgence, strengthening Indian society as a whole with a particular emphasis on rural communities. The National Service Scheme (NSS), launched in 1969, aims to propagate the concept of national integration, communal harmony, brotherhood, and social service among the youth by providing a platform to exhibit their talents and commitment to society. The inauguration of the NSS Cell at Netaji Subhas University marks a significant step towards fostering these values among the student community.

2. Activity Details

As a part of its commitment to social service, the “Inauguration of NSS Cell” was organized by Netaji Subhas University, Jamshedpur, in collaboration with Mr. Prasoon Dutta Singh, NSS Coordinator of Kolhan University, on 30th October 2019 at Netaji Subhas University, Jamshedpur. The event was attended by NSS volunteers, faculty members, and university officials. The programme was led by Mr. Raju Bhagat, NSS Programme Coordinator, and aimed to formally establish the NSS Cell with one General Unit comprising 100 volunteers.

The activities undertaken during the event included:

- 1) An official inauguration ceremony presided over by Mr. Prasoon Dutta Singh.
- 2) A briefing session on the objectives and responsibilities of NSS volunteers.
- 3) An address highlighting the university’s commitment to prioritizing societal needs above individual interests.

This event showcased the university’s dedication to fostering social responsibility among students and initiating community service programs.

3. Outcome

The inauguration of the NSS Cell provided a strong foundation for future community service initiatives at Netaji Subhas University. The presence of Mr. Prasoon Dutta Singh inspired the volunteers and reinforced the importance of selfless service. His address emphasized the NSS motto which ended up motivating the 100 newly enrolled volunteers to embrace selfless service. The briefing session equipped them with a clear understanding of their roles, such as participating in community enhancement activities like adult education, hygiene, and plantation, as outlined in the NSS objectives. This foundational event fostered a sense of unity and purpose among the volunteers, encouraging them to take proactive roles in upcoming initiatives like the Children's Day Celebration and Road Safety campaigns. For the university, it solidified a commitment to social welfare, aligning with national goals of reconstruction and rural upliftment. The enthusiasm displayed by attendees set a positive tone, ensuring the NSS Cell's activities would resonate with both the student body and the broader Jamshedpur community, laying the groundwork for impactful future programs.

Report on Children's Day Celebration Organized on Nov 14 2019

1. Introduction

With respect to the growth of nation on a whole, engaging youth in community service activities fosters empathy, social responsibility, and national integration. The National Service Scheme (NSS) at Netaji Subhas University, Jamshedpur, aligns with this vision by organizing events that promote communal harmony and support underprivileged sections of society. The Children's Day Celebration for orphaned children was one such initiative, aimed at bringing joy and positivity to young lives while encouraging NSS volunteers to contribute meaningfully to the community.

2. Activity Details

As part of the NSS programme, a "Children's Day Celebration" was organized by the NSS Cell of Netaji Subhas University, Jamshedpur, on 14th November 2019 at Mother Teresa Welfare Trust, Jamshedpur. The event commenced at 11:00 AM and was coordinated by Mr. Raju Bhagat, NSS Programme Coordinator. A total of 30 NSS volunteers participated, engaging with the orphaned children through various activities.

The activities undertaken during the programme included:

- 1) Interactive games and recreational activities for the children.
- 2) Cultural performances by NSS volunteers and children.
- 3) Distribution of gifts to bring smiles to the young beneficiaries.

The event was announced via a notice dated 6th November 2019, inviting NSS volunteers and students to participate and contribute to this noble cause.

3. Outcome

The Children's Day Celebration on 14th November 2019 at Mother Teresa Welfare Trust proved to be a resounding success, leaving a lasting impact on both the orphaned children and the NSS volunteers. The interactive games and cultural performances created an atmosphere of joy and camaraderie, allowing the children—often deprived of such experiences—to feel valued and celebrated on a day dedicated to them. The distribution of gifts, as noted in the notice (Page 9), further amplified their happiness, reinforcing the NSS goal of uplifting underprivileged sections of society. For the 30 participating volunteers, the event was a transformative experience; engaging directly with the children honed their interpersonal skills, empathy, and ability to organize community-focused activities. This hands-on involvement mirrored the NSS aim of personality development through service (Page 2), as volunteers learned to prioritize the needs of others, embodying the "Not Me But You" motto. The event also strengthened team spirit among the volunteers, who collaborated seamlessly to ensure its success, fostering leadership qualities and a sense of collective responsibility. In the broader community context, this initiative highlighted Netaji Subhas University's commitment to social service, setting a precedent for future outreach programs and inspiring other students to join NSS efforts, thereby amplifying the programme's reach and influence.

Jubilee Park, Jamshedpur
Report on Project Road Safety - Nukkad Natak Organized on 22nd December 2019

1. Introduction

In the development perspective of any nation, raising awareness about societal issues is a key responsibility of the youth. The National Service Scheme (NSS) at Netaji Subhas University, Jamshedpur, contributes to this goal by organizing programmes that address critical community concerns. The “Project Road Safety” initiative, featuring a Nukkad Natak, aimed to educate the public about road safety rules, promoting responsible behaviour and reducing accidents during the festive season.

2. Activity Details

As part of its community service initiatives, the NSS Cell of Netaji Subhas University, Jamshedpur, organized a “Road Safety Awareness Programme” on 22nd December 2019 at Jubilee Park, Sakchi, Jamshedpur. The event, commencing at 11:00 AM, was coordinated by Mr. Raju Bhagat, NSS Programme Coordinator, and involved collaboration with Social Crew, The Rotaract Club, NSS, and Invincibles. Approximately 20 NSS volunteers participated.

The activities undertaken during the programme included:

- 1) A Hindi Nukkad Natak highlighting road safety rules, such as wearing helmets and avoiding drunk driving.
- 2) Interactive sessions with the public to reinforce the message.
- 3) A road safety rally to engage citizens and spread awareness.

The event was announced through a notice dated 16th December 2019, encouraging student participation in this impactful initiative.

3. Outcome

The "Project Road Safety" event on 22nd December 2019 at Jubilee Park was a powerful demonstration of NSS's role in addressing pressing societal issues, with far-reaching outcomes for both participants and the Jamshehpur community. The Hindi Nukkad Natak, as detailed on Page 14, effectively captured the audience's attention, using a culturally resonant medium to emphasize the importance of wearing helmets and abstaining from drunk driving—messages particularly relevant during the Christmas and New Year festivities. The interactive sessions and road safety rally further engaged the public, with volunteers directly conveying safety tips to onlookers, fostering a ripple effect of awareness among citizens. Approximately 20 volunteers honed their public speaking, creative expression, and advocacy skills, aligning with NSS's aim of personality development. Their collaboration with groups like The Rotaract Club enhanced their teamwork and networking abilities, preparing them for future leadership roles. For the community, the event served as a timely reminder of responsible road behaviour, potentially reducing accidents and saving lives during the holiday season. The enthusiastic participation and positive public response, as inferred from the event's prominence in the presentation, underscored its success, reinforcing NSS's reputation as a catalyst for social change and inspiring continued efforts in public education initiatives.

Ashirwad Old Age Home, Jamshedpur
Report on Project Old Age Home Visit Organized on 23rd
December 2019

1. Introduction

With due consideration of the socio-economic condition of the country, programmes that promote empathy and support for marginalized groups strengthen societal bonds. The National Service Scheme (NSS) at Netaji Subhas University, Jamshedpur, embodies this ethos by organizing activities that uplift underprivileged communities. The visit to Ashirwad Old Age Home aimed to provide companionship and support to elderly residents while sensitizing students to the challenges faced by senior citizens.

2. Activity Details

As part of the NSS programme, a “Visit to Ashirwad Old Age Home” was organized by Netaji Subhas University, Jamshedpur, on 23rd December 2019 at Ashirwad Old Age Home, Baradwari, Jamshedpur. The event began at 9:00 AM and was supervised by Mr. Raju Bhagat, NSS Programme Coordinator. A total of 15 volunteers from various courses participated, including Ayushi, Amisha, Hasan, Ujjwal, Ritik, Shiweta, and Anjali.

The activities undertaken during the visit included:

- 1) Interaction sessions between volunteers and elderly residents.
- 2) Distribution of essential commodities to benefit the residents.
- 3) Small recreational activities to bring joy to the senior citizens.

The event was announced via a notice dated 17th December 2019, with registrations closing on 20th December 2019.

3. Outcome

The visit to Ashirwad Old Age Home on 23rd December 2019 yielded profound emotional and social outcomes, deeply impacting the elderly residents, the 15 NSS volunteers, and the university’s community engagement efforts. The interaction sessions, as noted on Page 19, allowed volunteers to connect personally with the senior citizens, many of whom experience isolation. This exchange fostered mutual understanding, with the elderly sharing life experiences that enriched the volunteers’ perspectives on resilience and aging. The distribution of essential commodities—ranging from daily necessities to small comforts—addressed immediate needs, enhancing the residents’ quality of life and demonstrating tangible support. Recreational activities, though simple, brought laughter and positivity, breaking the monotony of the residents’ routines and reinforcing the NSS goal of promoting social harmony. For the volunteers, including named participants like Ayushi and Hasan, the experience cultivated empathy, patience, and a heightened sense of social responsibility, aligning with the NSS aim of personality development through service. Their active involvement—from planning to execution; also sharpened organizational skills and group dynamics. Within the university, the event elevated NSS’s visibility, encouraging other students to participate in future initiatives and strengthening the institution’s reputation as a socially conscious entity. This visit planted seeds for sustained engagement with elderly care, fostering a culture of compassion and intergenerational bonding.

Report on NSS Activities During Lockdown Organized in 2020

1. Introduction

With due consideration of the jeopardised status of the country during the COVID era, adapting to challenging circumstances is vital for youth engagement in community service. During the COVID-19 pandemic, the National Service Scheme (NSS) at Netaji Subhas University, Jamshedpur, continued its efforts through virtual platforms. The “Activities During Lockdown” initiative, including weekly meetings and webinars, aimed to maintain volunteer momentum, raise awareness, and support the community amidst unprecedented times.

2. Activity Details

As part of its response to the pandemic, the NSS Cell of Netaji Subhas University, Jamshedpur, organized “Activities During Lockdown” throughout 2020 in the state of Jharkhand, district East Singhbhum. The programme was led by Prof. Raju Bhagat, NSS Programme Coordinator, and Prof. Sai Bharti, Programme Officer, with participation from all NSS volunteers.

The activities undertaken included:

- 1) Weekly virtual meetings to discuss volunteer efforts and appreciate their dedication during the pandemic.
- 2) A webinar on “Child Abuse” and the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act (POCSO), educating students on legal measures.
- 3) A webinar by UNICEF Jharkhand and Central University of Jharkhand on “COVID-19: Prevention, Awareness, and Role of the Student Community,” outlining NSS responsibilities.

These activities were conducted online, ensuring continuity of NSS efforts despite lockdown restrictions.

3. Outcome

The "Activities During Lockdown" in 2020 showcased the NSS Cell's adaptability and resilience, delivering significant outcomes despite the constraints of the COVID-19 pandemic. The weekly virtual meetings, as detailed on Page 21, provided a consistent platform for all volunteers to stay connected, share updates on their individual contributions—such as spreading awareness in their localities; and receive recognition from Prof. Raju Bhagat and Prof. Sai Bharti. This regular engagement sustained morale and creativity, reinforcing the NSS ethos of collective effort even in isolation. The webinar on child abuse was an eye-opening experience, equipping volunteers with knowledge about the POCSO Act and empowering them to identify and address such issues in their communities, aligning with NSS’s social service objectives (Page 3). The UNICEF and Central University of Jharkhand webinar (Page 23) further enriched their understanding of COVID-19 prevention strategies—like mask-wearing and hygiene—and clarified their roles as NSS volunteers in educating others, directly contributing to public health efforts in East Singhbhum. These virtual initiatives enhanced volunteers’ digital communication skills, critical thinking, and adaptability—key aspects of personality development; while fostering a sense of duty during a national crisis. For the broader community, the awareness generated through volunteer outreach likely amplified pandemic preparedness, demonstrating NSS’s enduring impact. This period of activity solidified the unit’s reputation as a proactive force, inspiring sustained virtual and future in-person engagements.
