This Faculty Development Program (FDP) aims to equip educators, researchers, and industry professionals with in-depth knowledge and contemporary perspectives on corporate governance, ethical business conduct, and the importance of legal compliance in today's dynamic and competitive business environment. The FDP blends theoretical frameworks with practical insights to promote a well-rounded understanding of corporate accountability and governance standards.

ABOUT THE FDP:

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE ?

- Faculty members from universities, law colleges, and business schools
- Research scholars in management, commerce, law, and related disciplines
- Industry professionals and corporate trainers
- Government officers dealing with corporate affairs or policy
- Professionals interested in corporate ethics and governance

- In-Depth Analysis of Corporate Governance Models: Explore global and Indian frameworks of governance, board structure, CSR, and shareholder rights.
- Ethics in Business Practices: Understand ethical decision-making in corporate operations, whistleblower policies, and stakeholder responsibility.
- Legal Compliance in the Corporate Sector: Overview of key business laws (Companies Act, SEBI norms, Competition Law, etc.) and regulatory obligations.
- Case-Based Learning: Real-world cases and legal controversies surrounding corporate mismanagement, fraud, and compliance failure.
- Resource Sessions by Experts: Eminent speakers from academia, industry, law firms, and regulatory bodies.
- Pedagogical Innovation: Tools and methods to incorporate governance and ethics into classroom teaching effectively.
- Certification & Recognition: UGC-compliant e-certificates provided to participants on successful completion.
